TAKING BIG CHANCES.

It is remarkable that the govern-ment should be willing to send a trans-port to sea, and especially on a journey across the Pacific, with no other mo-tive power than that which is repre-sented by one propeller. Where me-chanical propulsion is so limited, a ves-sel should have enough sail power to keen her moving on a prescribed keep her moving on a prescribed course in case either shaft or propeller has been rendered useless. In that way the Peking was saved nine years ago, after being seventeen days over-due; but if she had been as lightly equipped with canvas as the transport Warren, for example, she might have vanished in a storm like the ill-fated condor. There is perhaps enough sail ower on the Warren to keep her out of the trough of the sea, but not enough, by any means, to enable her to Imagine the Warren, with shaft or propeller gone, drifting about 1,000 ralles from anywhere in a vast, unfrequented sea where hurricanes and typhons abound. What could she do? How long would her supplies feed a thousand mouths or more? Luckily he escaped on her way down from San Francisco with only a broken blade. Had the whole screw been lost, the weather which has lately prevailed a this ocean might have sent the Warren to the bottom.

FOR BENEFIT OF SHIPPING

Immediate improvements are to be rade on the Island of Hawaii at the andling places where repairs are most argent. Supt. Boyd of the Department F. of Public Works has mapped out a plan which will be builed with delight by all the shippers and merchants of Honolulu and other ports of the Islands, as well as coast firms 'trading here. Before the end of the present year all landing places on Hawaii will he placed in good condition, and the improvement will very likely extend to all ports of the Territory.

Supt. Boyd yesterday received a replaces of Hawall made by the Engineer's Department after a special investigation. The Kailua, Ke Au Hou and Napoopoo landings are all dangerous condition, and repairs are to be made at once.

Of the Kailua landing it is reported that ten of the plers are defective and table to give away at any time, and should be renewed as well as the up per work of the wharf.

The necessary repairs recommended which include an open shed 144 x 50 feet, roofed with galvanized iron would cost about $1810. It is intended to put in ten piers 14 inches in diame ter, 12 feet in length and filled with concrete, and also to renew the upper

The landing at Ke Au Hou has bee completely washed out and a new one must be provided. A landing 12 x 40 feet is recommended, consisting of a coppered pile wharf of five bents of two which would ne essitate the drilling of holes for pites.

The location of this landing could be advantageously changed to a point northerly of the former position and on a line with road running to landing. An open shed 12 x 14 covered with cor-rugated ire roofing could be constructed over the wharf, the approximate cost of the entire in a sement being

The landing at Na spoo is nearly demolished and its renewal is a matter of immediate necessity. Supt. Boyd said yesterday that the repairs most pressing will be made immediately, and all the work of improvement will be completed before the close of the year.

SMALL BEGINNINGS.

The most dire calamities usually begin with a trivial cause. Mrs. O'Leary's erican Watches. cow kicks over a lantern and Chicago is burned. The leaping chamois pur-sued by the hunter, starts a pebble rolling and an avalanche is formed that buries a whole village under countless tons of snow. A patriotic Scotchman rears the thistle that is his Scotchman rears the thistle that is his national emblem, and sows the whole land with stubborn weeds. It is just the same in our physical beings. The greatest diseases begin with the most trivial causes. The commonest thing in the world is a cough. Yet from a common cough spring diseases that baffle all human skill and science. Just because the cough is such a small baffle all human skill and science. Just because the cough is such a small thing at the start it should never be neglected, but rooted up while it can be handled with ease. The acorn sends up a little stem and puts out a few leaves. A little child can root up this germ of a tree. But let the acorn grow to the fuil stature of the oak, and it defies the strength of giants to uproot it. That's the way with the cough. Kickapoo Cough Cure will cure any cough. But the cure cannot begin too soon. In nothing is delay so dangerous as in the treatment of a cough. Don't put off the treatment. Begin at once. But begin right. Kickapoo Cough Cure is a pure vegetable reme-Cough Cure is a pure vegetable reme-dy.
